

Managed Workwear System

As Part of our Quality workwear service we offer a Managed Workwear System.

Our aim is to make the workwear system as easy for you as possible.

Our Service Operators deliver clean garments directly to the wearers' individual lockers, ensuring that no time is wasted in sorting and putting away workwear. Soiled workwear is collected from bulk collection lockers by our service personnel.

Our Garment Dispenser ensures that clean laundry for each individual employee is secure and ready for collection at any time of the day or night.

Our Garment Collectors are designated to ensure the tidy and secure collection of soiled garments, which are posted by wearers through the opening in the collection door.

Added security

The workwear system eliminates the need for staffed cloakrooms and stores, and is a key element in reducing casual theft.

- A designated services key opens the main door of the Garment Dispenser, allowing all the compartments to be loaded with clean garments in a single operation.
- Employees have a personal compartment key giving access to their own locker 24 hours a day, with clean garments always secure, clean, tidy and ready for use.
- All compartments are fitted with 10-disc tumbler cam locks with 2,000 different combinations. Two keys are supplied for each compartment
- Number labels are available to identify compartment doors both inside and out.

On request, we will conduct an on-site survey to discuss all your locker management system requirements, and will confirm the details with you before designing a workwear management system to meet your needs.

We supply lockers to suit all requirements:

- Locker systems with sloping tops and stands for our customers in situations where a hygienic environment is critical.
- Personal lockers in compatible designs and colours, to enable your staff to store their own possessions safely.
